Rights Respecting Schools

Article of the Fortnight – Article 14 – Children have the right to their own beliefs and to practise their religion.

Sunday 21st January was World Religion Day. To celebrate this the children have been learning about different religions throughout the week. Learning about different religions helps to understand and respect each other's beliefs and to discover common themes. This also re-enforces the British Value of mutual respect and tolerance of those with different faiths and beliefs. The children have also spent some time thinking about their own beliefs. It would be wonderful if you could talk to the children about what they have learnt this week and what their beliefs are.
