As a governor, I would like to help the school to continue to improve in a way which benefits the children, the staff and the whole school community. I am passionate about learning through play and the importance of reading for pleasure for all ages. I also believe strongly in the benefits of allowing children to discover and pursue their own strengths and passions through a broad curriculum.

I have a strong and varied academic background (BSc Physics, PhD Atmospheric Physics, BA Humanities with Spanish) and 9 years post-doctoral research experience, primarily in issues related to aviation and climate change. More recently, I've worked on several publication-related projects on a freelance basis. I have also volunteered with the Let Toys Be Toys campaign, which seeks to improve the balance in play, expectations and opportunities for boys and girls throughout childhood.

I am very appreciative of the nurturing environment of the school and will work to protect the strengths and values of the school while supporting both students and staff to fulfil their potential.
